MuniWorld 2021 is going Hybrid

The Covid19 Pandemic made us all rethink, redefine, and re-innovate ways to meet, and share methodologies, and best practices regarding smart cities.

We are proud to inform you that MuniWorld 2021 is going Hybrid: we welcome delegations and visitors that can travel and join us, alongside with ONLINE participants.

Whether in Tel Aviv or via the internet, we are happy to present you an exciting and extensive program including:

MuniExpo Innovation Fair Goes ONLINE

Both Registered international participants of MuniWorld are granted full access to all the MUNI EXPO 2021, whether physically or ONLINE.

We will present you with an online platform providing a comprehensive and exciting experience for the entire conference.

You will be able to visit and meet all exhibitors, participate in innovative online tours of the exhibition, and participate in the international conference.

Special Live Tours are available!

Online live tours will be available throughout the event for registered participants. The tours will be conducted in English and will convey what is happening in the exhibition at those moments.

Each tour will deal with several areas known in advance to allow our visitors to choose the relevant places and join the tour.

During the tours you will be able to participate in the live chat with the tour guide, who will direct questions to representatives of companies exhibiting in the booths. We will make sure to answer all questions.

Please note that all registered participants can schedule virtual meetings through the B2B solution on the platform with all presenters and continue networking even beyond the tours.

Our exhibitors look forward to seeing and meeting you.

MuniWorld 2021 Conference is also Hybrid!

The COVID19 pandemic proved once again the critical role of local governments all over the world.

To allow all participants to join us for the MuniWorld 2021 Conference, we will broadcast it internationally via the internet for all online registered participants in Israel and abroad.

The conference will address the following issues:

Mobilizing national and municipal health campaigns in the pandemic era - Israel's case study.

The recent pandemic caught us off guard and made national and municipal initiate and manage large-scale health campaigns in no time. So, what is there to be learned from the Israeli experience?

Is Covid 19 the only pandemic to fight?

How can municipalities overcome challenges such as xenophobia, racism, and antisemitism while managing a global crisis?

Will 2022 be a year to remember?

Will the next year mark the end of the Covid pandemic, or should we prepare for new developments?

Looking forward to meeting you all!
